

What is the Open Air Theater?

The Open Air Theater is a 1500 seat outdoor venue. A seating chart and photo of the venue is attached to this email and posted on Athena in the "Venues" section. The OAT does not have any overhang or covering. It is 100% in the open! All performances at the OAT take place rain or shine – no refunds or exchanges! Chairs are loose. There is ADA seating available in row S of the Center Orchestra.

Summer Dining Options:

Patrons may not picnic in the OAT itself, but there are dining options for guests.

Picnic Area: If patrons would like to bring their own picnic, there is a picnic area that guests may visit pre-show: <http://longwoodgardens.org/dine/picnic-area> This area features 70 picnic tables, grills, restroom facilities.

The Café: casual pre-concert dining includes salads, soups, sandwiches, hot entrees, children's menu and pastries. No reservations required. Seating is first come, first served (it is a large space).

<http://longwoodgardens.org/dine/cafe>

1906 Fine Dining: Reservations are recommended and can be made through www.opentable.com. Currently the restaurant is only open for Lunch and Brunch but will be open for dinner beginning May 24.

What is the Meadow?

You may have a patron inquire about performances at the Meadow. The Meadow is another outdoor venue at LWG that has previously hosted Philadelphia Orchestra performances. At this time, we are not aware of any performances that will take place in the Meadow.

Will a concert be cancelled if it rains?

Concerts are considered all weather events and will be held rain or shine. In the event of extreme weather (ie severe thunderstorms/lightening), Longwood Gardens has cancelled or postponed concerts in the past. All ticket holders will be contacted via phone and email if there is a change in the event calendar. Info is also posted on their website and Facebook page.

Are these concerts available as part of a Pick 3?

No. Only concerts from October – May are included in the Pick 3.

Don't forget to ask if the patron is a Garden Passholder! They receive a $5 per ticket discount and reduced per ticket fees.