

Talking Points POA FY17

Parking Price Increase

In the past five years there have only been minimal increases to the cost of parking. During that time the expenses incurred by the parking garages have increased. This past year the City of Philadelphia imposed an additional tax on parking structures which made the price increase necessary. Despite the increase, we are still able to offer patrons a discounted parking option, as the drive-up rate for evening and weekend parking is $31.