Don't Miss a Moment of the New Pennsylvania Ballet Season!

Dear Friend,

Here at Pennsylvania Ballet, we couldn't be more excited to share with you the thrilling lineup of performances we have created for the 2016/2017 Season. With works ranging from the traditional to the avant-garde – including three world premieres — you'll be captivated from start to finish.

In October, we'll begin our Fall season by rekindling your love for one of the most enduring princess fairytales of all time with Cinderella. Then, join us for November's Revolution triple bill, including a world premiere from renowned cutting-edge choreographer Brian Sanders; David Dawson's captivating The Third Light; and George Balanchine's spirited Square Dance. Of course, the holidays wouldn't be complete without catching a stunning performance of the timeless family favorite, George Balanchine's The Nutcracker.™

We'll launch our Spring season in March 2017 on an adventurous note with the swashbuckling pirate-themed Le Corsaire, followed by April's Romance triple bill, including Nacho Duato's powerful Remansos; an all-new ballet showcasing Nicolo Fonte's highly developed choreographic approach; and George Balanchine's playful Western Symphony. And finally, we'll finish our season in May with a physically explosive Re/Action program that includes Christopher Wheeldon's Rush; George Balanchine's Sylvia Pas de Deux, Tchaikovsky Pas de Deux, and Tarantella; and an all-new work from our internationally acclaimed Choreographer in Residence, Matthew Neenan.

We can't wait to see you, along with your friends and family, at both the Academy of Music and the Merriam Theater for this exciting new season!

Warm regards,

Angel Corella

The Ruth and A. Morris Williams, Jr.
Artistic Director

P.S. We hope that you will consider adding a donation to the Annual Fund with your order. The Annual Fund supports every aspect of the Ballet's work – in the studios, on stage and through our Community Engagement programs in Philadelphia area schools.
